Youth Ethical Issues And Their Impact On Society

Cyber Ethics Free Seminars

Rescue employs statisticians to survey about 2000 male youths every year concerning their internet porn watching activity and sexual habits. They have discovered many shocking facts.

Youth Dangerous Sexual Habits

75% of students watch an average of 7 hours of sex videos per week starting from year 9. This is leading to 28% students engaging in sex before marriage, 10% of female youths having abortions, and 17% of male students using prostitutes. Such lifestyles: enhance the chances of contracting HIV and other STDs ;decrease the chance of stable marriages with security for children; lead to devastated, broken relationships and increased social problems such as abuse, domestic violence, suicide and crime.

Police Raids and Changing The Syllabus

Rescue works with Police Commissioners and Superintendents to conduct raids on download centers and cyber cafés who sell porn to high school boys. Rescue campaigns to government to block violent porn from the internet and after showing their shocking survey results to the educational authorities work with them to develop new school and college syllabus which address these issues.

Watching Rape On-Mass

33% of PUC and degree age boys watch an average of 20 rapes a week on their mobiles and digital devices! Pornography, like drugs, is a progressive habit: early levels of stimulation are quickly lost unless viewers progress to more perverted or violent forms. Watching violent porn is epidemic, more addictive than hard drugs and a menace to

Marriages and children. It is fueling the increase of the terrible plague of rape in this nation. 56 million rapes are viewed every day in India on the internet by this age group of boys! How can we allow our children to enjoy watching rape on mass?

Reaching Tens of Thousands of Students

Rescue conducts free awareness programs against pornography, promiscuity and AIDS to 50,000 students in 200 colleges per year. We estimate that about 1/3 of them stop watching porn and install porn blocking software after our program, regularly commenting that no one before had warned of the terrible consequences of porn addiction. 2 million unmarried college girls have abortion every year in India (source All India Institute of Medical Science). When we display images showing the humanity of a fetus and the horror of how it is poisoned or ripped to pieces in the womb, the youths decide on mass that abortion is not an acceptable option, so girls determine to abstain from sexual activities until they are married. In our programs we cover half of the topics outlined in the UN's millennium goals.

Lakhs of High School Girls Abducted to be Sex Slaves

According to our surveys 40% of college boys watch child porn and 20% of all the porn accessed is child porn; most of which is videos of high school girls being raped! This huge demand for such videos is the primary reason for the explosion of the capturing and trafficking of young girls into the sex trade. CBI stated that 200,000 high school girls are now being horrifically abducted, tortured, raped, drugged and forced into vile child prostitution across India each year: the fruit of child porn.

Media Campaigns

On average 40 articles appear in state papers each year, reporting Rescue's survey results, as well as a multitude of articles in local papers. We have been featured in 9 live TV programs, do countless TV news interviews and multiple press meetings concerning these issues, sowing seeds of the need for social transformation and decisive action with this campaign reaching millions of people across India.

Disaster Response

Rescue conducts an annual training camp to train youths who want to get involved in these activities, raises up student teams in colleges, plans marches with other NGOs, trains other NGOs on these issues. We began through involving in the 2005 Tsunami relief response and are committed to disaster response in India. Rescue was registered in 2011 and is based in Mysore but sends teams all over India. For our camps and for this relief we have made 13 tents which can accommodate a relief camp with capacity for 100 survivors, mini mobile nursing home, and 100-seater meeting tent.

Rescue would like to have the opportunity to conduct a free awareness program in your institution on these issues
